Council To Call Chief In On Dance Permit Decision

To Install Bodien As Plan Chief

Arthur Bodien, former head of the Daly City water department and member of the San Mateo county planning commission for 12 years, will be installed chairman of the commission at their August 17 meeting.

Bodien, a veteran of nearly 40 years in Daly City public office, was named unanimously last week to head the planning group. He had previously served the past ten years as vice chairman of the commission.

The planning commission is currently making last-minute revisions on a master zoning plan for the county which has taken over three years to prepare. The master plan is expected to be presented to the board of supervisors for approval within two weeks.

By MONTE DAYTON

Don't know what it means, but a new police position, that of captain, has been listed in the wage scale list for Daly City.

Chief R. L. PETROCCHI has long sought to have the captaincy position established, thereby protecting himself on the civil service list in the event of any unforeseen occurrences.

DAN ANDERSEN, former city administrator and more recently in the real estate business at Westlake, is now a salesman for Van Zetta Motors, Lincoln-Mercury dealers.

Appropriately, Dan is now wheeling around in a new Merc.

ED CEREGHINO, Daly City's and NY Yankee's $75,000 baseball bonus baby, has been shuttled off again from the Pacific Coast league to a lower class division up north.

Baseball experts are befuddled over Cereghino, who started out as a sensayshun, but has had so many ups and downs.

Policy in the Jefferson Elementary School district got a stiff scrutiny by the board of trustees Monday night at an extra-preliminary session held over coffee cups.

Results of their self-examination may be revealed in the not too far off future.

Abandonment Of No. 56 Set For Aug. 8 Hearing

Public hearing on abandonment of the No. 56 (Cemeteries) Municipal bus line has been set for August 8, 3 p.m., in San Francisco city hall.

The San Francisco board of supervisors, which early this year approved a six-months trial period for the No. 56, voted to set the hearing Monday. A week earlier supervisors asked abandonment of the line because of continued losses, despite the fact that, under the trial operation, only one vehicle was used on the line.

LOCAL PAROLEE, 15, ADMITS TO BEING IN WILD CHASE AUTO

A 15-year-old Daly City boy, a parolee from Paso Robles, turned himself in to local police this week. The youth admitted to being one of the three boys who led Daly City police in an 100-mile-an-hour chase through Daly City streets on July 9, officers said.

The mad ride was made by Officer Robert Crocker and Auxiliary Officer Joseph Gehrig who finally forced the stolen car to a halt in South San Francisco. Only one of the youths was caught at that time.

The newly arrested boy was charged with violation of parole and has been turned over to Hillcrest, police said.

GAMBLERS MOVE TO SM COUNTY THWARTED, DA TELLS AT GRAND JURY

Future invasion of northern San Mateo county by Chinese gamblers can now be thwarted because authorities have obtained sufficient information on their operations, District Attorney Keith C. Sorenson told the county grand jury Monday night.

Sorenson revealed the exodus of gambling operations from San Francisco into this county could be avoided after a 4½ hour session before the jury, during which 12 witnesses, including 10 Chinese, appeared under subpoena.

Some witnesses refused to testify, while others claimed complete ignorance of the gaming activity, but the district attorney said he still had enough testimony to make it a "profitable evening."

Says Syndicate "I am convinced that the movement of Chinese gambling into this county was the work of an organized syndicate," Sorenson stated.

Decision on requested dance permits for the Hilltop Lodge and the Starway will be delayed at least two weeks, it was decided at Monday night's council meeting. Councilmen are waiting the return of Police Chief Roland Petrocchi, who is now on vacation.

The chief, who last week reversed his recommendation on the two local bars, will return from a three-week vacation on August 8. He will be asked to appear at the council meeting that night to explain his change of recommendation.

Petrocchi at first advised that the council refuse to grant permits to the two taverns, but in a surprise reversal last week, changed his recommendation.

The about-face was made, Petrocchi told THE RECORD, because he feels that a dance permit would place a further control on the two local nighties.

At Monday's council meet two lawyers pleaded for the dance permits. First to speak was J. Fred Haley of Oakland, representing Alan Morgan, owner of the Starway, 5999 Mission street.

"Morgan has invested his life's savings in the Starway," Haley told the council. "He will be driven out of business unless the permit is granted."

Haley added that "Morgan, himself has an unblemished record" and "selection of employees is based on union regulations and requirements."

Ask Master Plan For DC Recreation

Viewing a 50,000 population by 1965, the Daly City recreation department Tuesday night voted to formulate a master plan for park development and recreation facilities.

Commissioners said the population increase would be pro-rated over the next ten years, so that maintenance and capital outlay expenditures could be allocated according to the need.

The commission pointed to unfinished Westlake park and the need for rehabilitation of Frankfort park as examples of what would be avoided by a master plan.

Although money was appropriated for both projects, it was spent for other improvements with the result that completion of the two recreation facilities is long overdue.

The commission said that a priority list would be established, with the most urgent projects to receive first attention.

This year, according to the commission, priority will be given to completion of the lower meeting room in the community center, and installation of the first section of Westlake park.

The Westlake park work tentatively planned for this year includes lawn seeding, planting shrubbery, road improvement, parking and construction of a baseball diamond.

A total of $21,000 was allocated in the 1955-56 budget for work at Westlake park, but only about $10,000 remains, the balance having been spent earlier this year for topsoil.

The commission also announced Tuesday that plans were completed for the $25,000 Westlake clubhouse, to be constructed by Henry Doelger.

According to the commission, work should be underway early next month.

Formulation of a master plan for Daly City recreation will be made easier, the commission pointed out, when the new engineering department is established, expected to be in about 60 days.

The commission approved setting up the engineering offices in the unused upstairs wing of the community center.

Two Thugs Rob, Slua Daly City Waiter, 57

A 57-year-old waiter, returning from work at 12:45 a.m. Saturday night, was hit over the head and robbed of $10 at Brunswick and Crocker streets by two "long-haired" thugs.

Victim of the assault was Franz Giovanni of 280 Peoria street. He told officers that he got off the No. 14 bus at Crocker and Mission streets and walked to Brunswick where he saw two youths get out of an old model black car.

Giovanni said that the pair approached him, and one asked, "Say, Mister, got a cigarette?"

As Giovanni reached into his pocket for a cigarette, he was struck from behind by the other youth. The waiter declared that he was knocked to the sidewalk, and when he started to yell for help, he was told to "shut up or we'll fill you full of holes."

The youths then told Giovanni to hand over his money, amounting to $10.

"Start walking and don't look back or we'll kill you," he was told by the robbers.

Giovanni told police that he heard the pair running and then a car driving away at a high rate of speed.

The victim was treated at Junipero Serra hospital for a cut on the left side of his head.

RECORD STORY ON TRUSTEE KIDS CREATES RUCKUS

In a meeting of the Jefferson Elementary School board Wednesday night, which dragged on until two o'clock in the morning, discussion arose over Trustee Hartley Appleton's remark last week that, "I've heard that children of board members have their teachers hand-picked at Colma school."

A mysterious John Eckert, 707 Templeton avenue, League for Better Schools member, told Appleton that he belongs to "a group of editors who publish coast-to-coast."

"The article that appeared in last week's RECORD will be read by a million people and, in condensed form, will be read by 17,000,000 people," Eckert, a machine shop inspector, claimed.

"THE RECORD article was slightly misquoted," retorted Appleton. "I said that I had heard that children of board members and other influential people have their teachers hand-picked at Colma school."

Eckert told THE RECORD today that he did not agree with Appleton's statement that he had been misquoted.

Appleton added, "I say what I think, and you or no one else can curtail me."

"You and I are alike then, Mr. Appleton," insisted Eckert. "I say what I think too."

Eckert went on to explain that his specific thought was to stop rumors.

"Your statement cast a bad reflection on the other trustees, and it was not true," Eckert told Appleton.

The trustee conveyed that he, too, was trying to stop rumors.

"Just who are you?" Appleton asked the mysterious Eckert, who gave the trustee his name, address and telephone number but refused to divulge the press organization for which he claimed he spoke.

Eckert would only add that Appleton's remark would probably eventually end up in the "Readers Digest."

He revealed today though that he belongs to a "lobbyist" group who have an "interest in everything." Eckert added that he has taken an oath in which he swore not to reveal any more information.

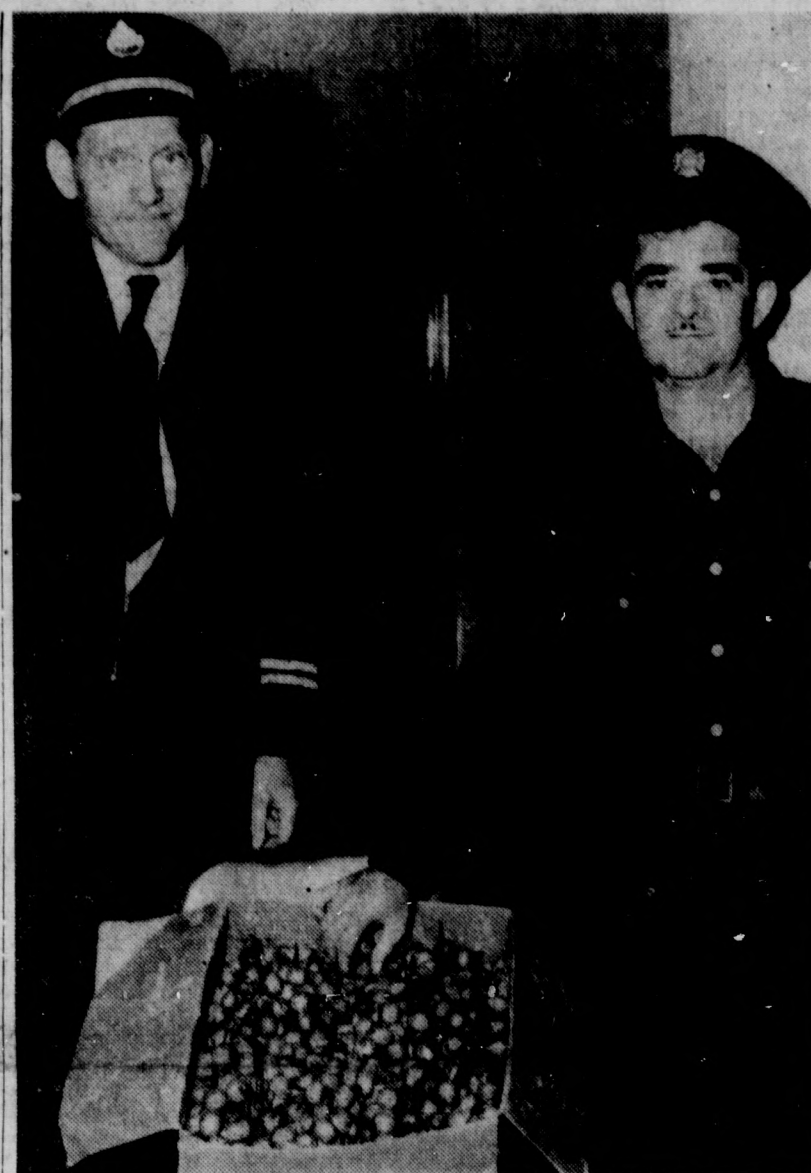

Burglar Fails Attempt To Steal Liquor Here

Although a burglar failed in his apparent attempt to steal liquor from a local grocery store, he succeeded in causing $200 damage to a plate glass window last Thursday night.

Victim was George Mirabella, 55, owner of a grocery store at 600 Mission street. Mirabella called police when he found a ten-inch hole cut in his window Friday morning.

Officers said that a piece of wood behind the glass prevented the burglar from reaching the liquor. Mirabella was asleep in an upstairs flat at the time of the attempted burglary.

The box of "cherry bombs" or "Chinese sizzlers" were found by Police Officer Art Linhares, who was called Monday to the 200 block of Los Olivos street where two youngsters were reportedly shooting off firecrackers. When Linhares arrived he found the two boys, who said that they had received the Chinese sizzlers from another youth. Upon locating the third child, Linhares was told that the sizzlers had been obtained from still another youngster. Finally, with the help of this last child and George Hopman, Linhares found the box of sizzlers under a house on Los Olivos street. The sizzlers were turned over to the fire department and destroyed.

Circulate Petition For Northgate City

Northgate city proponents began circulating petitions for incorporation Tuesday, according to Thomas Noonan, leader of the incorporation movement.

About 30 volunteer workers picked up petition forms at a meeting Monday night, Noonan said.

Pro-incorporation enthusiasts have until August 30 to file petitions with the county board of supervisors. Signatures must equal 25 per cent of registered voters in the unincorporated area, including Sterling Park, Garden Village and Broadmoor.

Noonan referred to the fact that date for the election will probably be set 20 weeks after the petition is filed with the board of supervisors.

Whether the Northgate incorporation proponents have the legal right to proceed with their plans is still undetermined. Al-

FIVE PER CENT SALARY BOOST FOR EMPLOYEES

Daly City employees have been granted a blanket five per cent increase by the city council. The raise, which ups each employee one step on the civil service scale, is retroactive to July 1.

A few employees will be eligible for both the blanket five per cent increase and a step increase amounting to another five per cent. However, these employees will not receive the second step increase until next year.

John D. Walsh, Civil Service Employees association president said today that the approved salary schedule appears almost identical to the state survey recommendations. He added, however, that the salary schedule will come under closer scrutiny at an employees meeting next Thursday.

Walsh raised two questions on the salary schedule in a letter to the council Monday night.

1. The council has included Saturdays in vacation days contrary to precedent set by the last council.

2. Walsh requested that all additional city employees adhere to civil service classifications.

Drop Saturdays
Walsh's first point concerns the fact that two years ago, when city employees went off a 5½ day week, Saturdays continued to be counted in vacation time. According to Walsh, police and firemen lose one day and miscellaneous

The city council Monday night authorized City Manager Howard Stites to continue his investigation of a possible dog leash ordinance here.

The requested ordinance, originally scheduled to be on the agenda, did not appear, but was brought up by Mrs. James Halloran, 499 Crocker avenue. Mrs. Halloran was one of the women to first suggest a dog leash ordinance several weeks ago.

"Are you going to do something about the situation or not?" she asked the council.

Stites replied that he had not yet compiled information on the dog leash ordinance.

Councilman Edward Dennis interjected the comment that he had observed that "people with pedigreed dogs want a dog leash ordinance."

"If one isn't passed, I'm going to ask that the fire hydrant at the corner of my street be removed," laughed Councilman Del Wilson.

Next to speak in favor of the ordinance was Roy Wingo, president of the dog owners group in Daly City. Wingo declared that his organization would be glad to assist Stites in preparing a dog leash law.

Mrs. Lydia E. Talbott, longtime Daly City resident, 244 Westlake avenue, was the next person in the audience to speak in favor of the ordinance.

"We need more fresh air," declared Mrs. Talbott. "Let's leave the horse and buggy days."

Mrs. Talbott added that she was tired of "cleaning up messes." "You should see the yard next door," she told the council.

Two Injured In 14 Car Coast Pile-Up

Two persons were injured and two autos overturned in a 14-car crash Wednesday morning at 6:55 a.m. on fog-choked, mud-slicked Coast Highway No. 1, just south of Thornton beach in Daly City.

One car involved in the first four-car accident was driven by a husband speeding his pregnant wife to a San Francisco hospital for delivery of her child. The man, Robert Kirk, 751 Noriega way, Pedro Valley, drove on to the hospital, where his wife gave a normal birth to a baby boy six hours later.

The smash-up was strung over a 10-mile area to Pacific Manor, according to highway patrol.

Commuter traffic to San Francisco was blocked in both lanes until 8 a.m. Daly City and Broadmoor police, sheriff's office and CHP worked in clearing the traffic snarl.

Injured were Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Smith, 719 Arguello drive, Pedro Valley. Linda Mar. Smith suffered a neck injury, while his wife was treated for a lacerated hand and a back injury.

employees lost two days of vacation time with the elimination of Saturdays.

"Because we have not received a blanket increase in two years, we feel it is only fair for the council to maintain present conditions," Walsh said. He termed the inclusion of Saturdays as a "fringe benefit."

The second point in the letter arose from the fact that both a clerk and a purchasing agent have been hired by the city and not placed on the civil service scale, Walsh declared.

The council will meet with Walsh and two other representatives of the civil service organization (Continued on Page 2)

WALTER MAI, SF Seals publicist, speaking before Westlake Business & Professional association Tuesday night, pointed out that price of "Westlake Night" tickets weren't reduced quite as much for the women as they were for the men.

"But they won't complain. I'm a bachelor and in my experience women complain less than men," Walter opined.

Observing that Mai was single, SAM KOVITZ, Westlake liquorman, replied, "That's why you don't know any better."

Ex-school Trustee HELEN CHEATHAM and husband, BILL, will be carrying some extraordinary baggage when they journey to Los Angeles soon to visit friends.

The Cheathams braved the stormy Pacific waters Saturday and came home with limits of salmon.

They'll take the frozen fish with them, under arm, when they trek to L.A.

TED WEEDEN, 45 Alexander avenue, told the council of a critical problem Monday night.

Seems the recreation department has been showing movies at Crocker school.

The first week, Mr. Weedon pointed out, there was only one lavatory open for both boys and girls and the parents complained.

The next week, he said, there were no lavatories open, and the kids complained.

First casualty: A jitney rider, 74-year-old Mrs. GERTRUDE GILMORE, 979 Fell street, Sunday became first victim of an accident on the Northgate Transit Co.

She got her thumb caught in the door when emerging from one of the eight-passenger vehicles.

Condition: Painful but not critical.

Council To Question Chief Of Police

mit was based on the fact that on April 22 a Starway bartender was arrested on a felony count in San Francisco and charged with being a contact man for an abortion ring. Morgan has steadfastly denied any knowledge of the bartender's activities.

Councilman Sanford Vickers informed Haley that a 90-day "cooling-off" period had been determined by the council.

"The permit will probably be granted after that time," Vickers told the attorney.

Next in line to appeal for the dance permit was John J. Fahey Jr., representing Hilltop Lodge owners, George and Ann Kirchhubel and Dan Pallas.

"By Coincidence"

Fahey told the council that, by coincidence, he was also representing the Starway bartender.

"The bartender incident had nothing to do with the tavern owner," Fahey insisted. "No one is his brother's keeper."

Fahey then transferred his plea to his own clients.

"Every single police officer in the Hilltop hearing gave the tavern a clean bill of health," claimed the attorney.

Fahey referred to the recent hearing before the state liquor control department which on April 7 revoked the Hilltop's liquor license. Lodge owners are appealing the decision, however, date for appeal has not yet been set.

"People get in enough trouble without anticipation," Fahey told the council in asking the members not to "prejudge" the establishment.

Dennis Speaks

Councilman Edward Dennis was the only member of the council to speak in favor of the dance permit grants.

"I feel they should be granted," he explained. "They can be closed up if there is any trouble."

Councilman Sanford Vickers protested. "City police are incompatible with policing these places," Vickers claimed. He explained that special police would be needed.

"The police department is qualified to enforce the law," Dennis retorted.

Vickers later amplified his statement, explaining that he meant only to present the difficulty police have in controlling local bars.

DC MAILMAN PLEADS GUILTY TO CHARGE OF DRUNK DRIVING

Harry E. Watson, 46, a Daly City mailman, pleaded guilty Friday in Municipal court to charges of drunk driving. Watson, 32 Flournoy street, was fined $150.

The mailman was arrested July 17 at Como and Mission streets when police said they saw his car wavering down Mission street for several blocks.

Saturday, the day after Watson appeared in court, his car was involved in another accident on Mission street. The mishap occurred when a car driven by Geraldine E. Silverman, 29, 1859 Sweetwood drive, Broadmoor, struck Watson's car, which he claimed was stopped.

Mrs. Silverman's two children, Patricia, 7, and Rebecca, 9, suffered minor injuries, according to the accident report. Mrs. Silverman refused medical attention for her children, officers said.

Burglars Get $450 Haul In Cabinet Shop Job

Burglars broke into a San Pedro road cabinet shop sometime Saturday night and stole $450 worth of power tools, a check writing machine and a large number of blank checks.

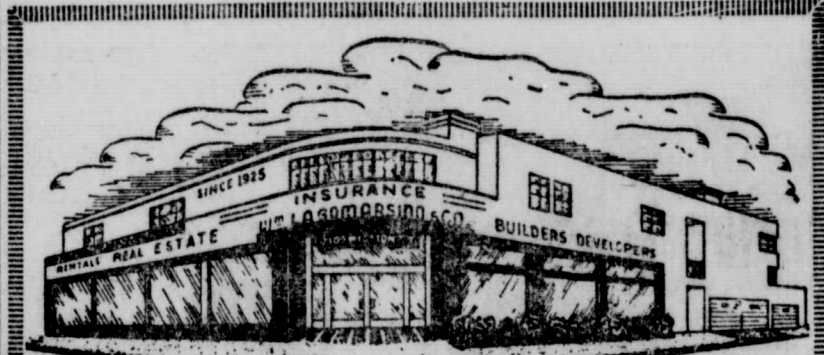

George Lehto, owner of the Cardinal Hill, 221 San Pedro road, said entry had been gained by breaking a window.

The company's records were taken out of files and strewn all

JITNEY LOSSES: HOW LONG?

We're not prophets of doom, but it appears that in the four weeks Daly City's newest mode of transportation, the jitney, has been in operation business does not indicate continued operations for more than a few months at the most.

Unless these new vehicles start striking the riders' fancy pretty soon, the Northgate Transit Co. is going to be out of business or out of red ink.

We do not know exactly what the financial resources of the Northgate group are, but we are reasonably sure that they are not sufficient to finance consistent losses for more than 90 days at the most. Even the more solvent firms hesitate to fly in the face of poverty for this long a time.

A citizens committee will shortly report on the jitney operations to date. We hope their report also includes a run-down on financial responsibility.

If the jitneys are forced to cease operations, due to lack of cash, it could be a sudden thing, happening almost overnight.

The council should begin making provisions for engaging another form of transportation, just in case the jitneys can't "cut the buck."

We don't wish failure on any legitimate business enterprise, but provisions for engaging another means of transit shouldn't be forestalled by the council because of sentiment or unwarranted optimism.

A BASEBALL NIGHT FOR DALY CITY

The "Westlake Night," at San Francisco Seals stadium August 25 is a laudable enough promotion but serves to remind us again of the schism existing between the new subdivision and Daly City's original populace.

Merchants of the shopping center in Westlake demonstrate good "horse-sense" in sponsoring such a baseball night and can hardly be termed provincial for so doing.

At the same time, how much bigger and better could such a "Night" be, for both the city and the Seals, were it sponsored by all of Daly City.

Granted, the business created by such a promotion would be spread among twice as many stores, but there would be more than twice as many citizens taking part.

Daly City, east of Junipero Serra, has long been known as a "good baseball town."

With the proper guidance and handling, a "Daly City Night" could be a tremendous success, pouring money into the coffers of the Seals corporation, and local merchants, providing Daly City with much-needed desirable publicity, and giving a lot of citizens a good night at the ball park.

"Westlake Night" is good, but "Daly City Night" would be better.

No Dog Leash Law Convenient, But Not Safe, Says Reader

Dear Sir:

A recent issue of your paper carried a report of a local citizen's request for a dog leash law. This report was highly illuminating, to say the least.

According to the quoted remarks of the poundmaster, ONLY ten people per month, or an average of one hundred twenty per year are bitten by dogs in Daly City. Surely, this casualty rate does not justify preventive measures in the face of objections from one hundred fifty people who might be inconvenienced by the passage of a leash law. After all, the latter are probably all registered voters, whereas the victims must include a good number of babies and small children who won't be eligible to vote for years.

Nor would the fact that "complaints are getting heavier day by day," as the poundmaster said, require the exercise of any discretion by the city council. After all, the members of that body were not elected for their intelligence, but only to do as they're told. And, since "not one person appeared to ask for the law," as the City Attorney said, obviously there is no need for such a law.

I assume, that by virtue of the same sound logic, we can expect an early repeal of all traffic laws, inasmuch as such laws are a great inconvenience to all motorists and the victims of traffic accidents rarely appear before the council to ask for protection.

We can then all be very proud of our city council for making Daly City such a convenient place to

GI Suggests Way To Create Interest

Mr. Editor,

I am a former resident of Broadmoor Village and am now in the service, stationed in California. I have a suggestion which might tend to give the people of Daly City to take a more active interest in the civic affairs of Daly City.

As in the town at which I am stationed, the government is set up somewhat similar to Daly City. Each Tuesday evening, for a half hour, the city council meeting is broadcast over the radio. This is made possible by the cooperation of the local merchants of the community. I am of the opinion that this idea would work in Daly City. As you know, the Council Hall in your city does not seat too many people. Many people would like to attend the meetings but are unable to because of time or other reasons. The way such a broadcast could be brought about, would be to canvass the local merchants and to inquire their views on the subject. I believe it would be a very inexpensive project, if the merchants worked together as they have in the past. Also the local theater could run a short film as a form of advertisement.

I think that if people could listen to what goes on at the meetings that more people would be at the polls on election day, and that everyone would take a better view of the way our city government is run.

Signed
A person interested in the betterment of the City of Daly City.

HANK SUNDERMANN, Daly City's traffic inspector, selects one of his more than 1200 records to play as he relaxes in the den of his home, 570 San Diego street. Sundermann's collection includes Dixieland, New Orleans and Deep South jazz and began with the purchase of Lu Watters' "Minstrels of Annie Street" and "Pineapple Rag" seven years ago. All records are carefully categorized as to title and musician, and Sundermann has broken only one in the seven years. Note the bookcase filled with albums behind the traffic inspector.

DC Traffic Inspector Is Fan Of Dixieland Jazz

Hank Sundermann's purchase of a Lu Watters record, "Minstrels of Annie Street" and "Pineapple Rag," only seven years ago has expanded into a collection of over 1200 jazz records.

Sundermann's records include mostly Dixieland, New Orleans and Deep South jazz.

"I buy records that I enjoy—not like some collectors who buy records just to own them," Sundermann, Daly City's police traffic inspector, explained in an interview.

With the acquirement of the first Lu Watters record, Sundermann built an amplifier system with a 15 inch speaker from an old juke box. This phonograph stands in the den at his home, 570 San Diego avenue.

The records, a few of which are worth as much as $25 each, are carefully categorized by both name and musician and are kept in albums in a special bookcase, also built by the traffic inspector.

Sundermann related that he had only broken one record in his collection, and "luckily, it was an easy one to replace."

"From here on in, records will be hard to get," Sundermann declared.

He explained that rare records must be cut from the original.

DC Resident Blames Kids For Dog Bites

Dear Editor:

Today for the first time in your paper, THE RECORD, July 21 copy, did I know of a poll about a dog leash ordinance. You say Daly City residents are overwhelmingly in the civic leash thing—this I don't believe.

I do believe that, by far, most of us that live in Daly City knew nothing of this poll until now, or don't know yet this is going on, or most people read San Francisco papers, or are too busy in other ways, or are on vacation, etc.

Then in your same issue of THE RECORD, page three, you have a story of a barking dog warning his owner of a spare tire theft.

I will ask every organization such as SPCA, Pet's Unlimited, etc., to help us in this matter.

1. Dogs don't hurt my lawn, and they really use it—kids really do a lot of damage every week.

2. I know of two or three cases of dogs biting children—this I have seen, and it was because children mistreated the dog. Every time the child won out. Their mothers knew this but did not correct the child, but reported the dog.

3. I have had my windows broken in my home several times, glass broken in two cars which were parked in front of my home, my plants damaged—all by children. Their mothers and fathers still allow them to play ball in the street, bat the balls right at houses, stop traffic while playing, etc.

4. Did you ever go to a movie in Daly City and see the children run up and down the aisles, kick the back of your seat, hugging, kissing—for 10 minutes at a

SIGHTSEEING SUGGESTION.

Are you one of the many families in this area who have guests from out of town, and you are anxious to show them the sights of San Francisco. Possibly they may be among the many people who have yet to witness a live radio broadcast.

For a pleasant interlude in your busy day of sightseeing, take them to "The Bill Weaver Show," broadcast Monday through Friday at 3:05 to 4 p.m. from the spacious studios of KCBS located in the Sheraton-Palace Hotel. No tickets or reservations are required... just be in the studios about fifteen minutes before broadcast time. With genial Bill Weaver as host, interviews with special guests, Ray Hackett and his KCBS orchestra and songs by Ardeen de Camp and Stan Noonan, the program is most entertaining. To add to the pleasant informal atmosphere of the broadcast, coffee and soft drinks are served to the audience, and Bill sometimes gives away samples of his sponsor's products.

KIDDIES' CORNER... For the enjoyment and education of kiddies and adults as well, KQED is again offering a foreign language course over Channel 9 with its new program "Eins Zwei Drei," which will continue through December 12. Presented by Dr. Frederick Schwartz, Department of Modern Languages, Iowa State College, the course in beginning German is suitable for the bicycle set as well as grownups. In conjunction with the programs (Mondays, 4 p.m. and repeated again at 7:30 p.m.) KQED is offering a cleverly illustrated study guide for the sum of one dollar to assist viewers in following the program.

RADIO STATION CONTRIBUTES MONEY TO KQED

A shining example of the splendid support by bay area radio stations in the recent fund raising campaign to keep KQED on the air was the contribution by Radio Station KSFO.

Presentation of a $5,000 contribution toward the support and continuance of Channel 9 was recently made by Roman Wassenberg, Executive Vice-President and General Manager of KSFO, on behalf of San Francisco Broadcasters, Inc. KSFO's donation will be extended over a period of five years, with an initial $1,000 contribution, the balance to be contributed $1,000 yearly for the next four years.

SUMMER DRAMATIC SERIES

"Lux Video Theatre," one of the fine NBC dramatic programs seen weekly over KRON-TV (Thursdays, 10 p.m.) has embarked upon a unique experiment for the show's summer series. Each week, stories which will be made into motion pictures within the next year or two have been made available to the program by the movie companies which own them. The series which is referred to as summer television previews will have the widest possible selection of story material through the co-operation of the motion picture companies whose hit movies have been adapted for the "Lux Video Theatre" during the past season.

UHF CONVERSION CAMPAIGN

At the opening of the second Bay Area UHF Conversion Campaign held recently in the San Francisco Merchandise Mart, Norwood Patterson, General Manager of KSTN-TV, announced that conversion of television sets to ultra high frequency were now running near two per cent per month. He also reported that as a result of the first campaign held a year ago, over 300,000 television sets were converted.

Two For Tonight

By Leonore Brewer

The past week has been relatively uneventful, one of those lulls between storms that give us the opportunity to continue our vain attempt to catch up on our reading. In this case Robert Ruark's latest, "Something of Value," one of the bloodiest books we have ever read.

Now, before some irate reader phones the editor to complain that this writer is using improper language, let us point out that in our dictionary that particular meaning of the word is choice five, and it is with the literal meaning that we are concerned.

"Something of Value" is "a basically true story" of life in Kenya before and during the Mau Mau terror. It is a long and in the early part leisurely novel concerned with the lives of an enormous number of characters, with Peter, son of a white rancher, and Kimani, his Kikuyu "blood brother" heading the cast. However, once the reign of terror begins, the pace of the books gains momentum and when Ruark gets into the descriptions of the Mau Mau oaths, the indiscriminate slaughter of women and children by the Mau Mau and the relentlessly retelling by the whites, blood positively drips from the pages.

It is not the intention of this column to review the book. Actually, at this moment we are only three-quarters through and find it so fascinating in a horrible way that we can barely get down to the business of the column. Why we mention it at all is that Hollywood has bought it.

Lately we have been a little amazed at the subject matter of some of the properties bought by various studios: "Tea and Sympathy," "The Bad Seed," "The Man with the Golden Arm," and early this month "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof," but "Something of Value" tops them all.

It looks as though a new day is dawning in Hollywood, marked by the production of films dealing with adult, challenging, even controversial themes. Such problems have long been reflected in books and on the stage and it's high time the screen had the same freedom of expression.

Needless to say, between the purchase of a property and the screening of the finished film stretches a long, hard road pitted by innumerable censorship battles.

What a pity that the strength to fight a worthwhile battle for a worthwhile film is so often dissipated in squabbles over such trivia as "Sop of Sinbad." An even greater pity is that "Sinbad" undoubtedly grossed more than it deserved just because of such squabbles.

TRUSTEES NAME TULARE MAN AS COLMA PRINCIPAL

The Jefferson Elementary School board Wednesday night approved the appointment of Joseph S. Cutler to the principalship of Colma school. The post was left vacant with the recent resignation of Hillard Alfson who had served as principal for the past year.

Cutler, 40, was one of six men interviewed Friday in Los Angeles by Superintendent H. Z. Weibel. According to Weibel, he was forced to apply in the southern part of the state because there were not enough prospective candidates in this area.

The new Colma school principal, who has still yet to be informed of the acceptance, is married and has four children, aged one, three, five and six.

He received his Master of Arts degree at Stanford university in 1950, and is now working toward his Doctor of Education degree at the University of Southern California.

From 1939 to 1942 he served as commercial high school teacher at York Central school in Retsof, New York. From there he went to the Cherry Avenue upper grade elementary school in Tulare where he took the position of physical education teacher until 1947.

From 1947 to 1950 Cutler was the supervising principal of Lincoln Elementary school in Tulare, which serves kindergarten through eighth grades and has an enrollment of 475 pupils.

Cutler returned to the Cherry Avenue school in 1950 where he served until the present time as principal. According to Weibel, the Tulare school is similar to the Colma school as it includes the sixth through the eighth grades and has an enrollment of 425 pupils.

Cutler's salary will be $6985 and he will be placed on the salary schedule, according to Weibel. The new principal's Tulare salary was said to be $6530.

The first meteoric display recorded in the United States was in November, 1799.

Markovich To Head Daly City Retreat

Peter J. Markovich, prominent civic leader and insurance broker, will head the Daly City Retreat at the Saint Francis Retreat House, San Juan Bautista. The Retreat House has been reserved exclusively for the weekend of August 12-13-14.

It has solved a problem of many American men—the chance to get away from daily surroundings, to rest physically and to quicken the spirit, and according to Markovich, it is an experience never to be forgotten.

Those desiring to join the group may make reservations by phoning Markovich, PL. 5-2262 or PL. 5-4593.

Judge Clears Callan Of Sign Tampering

Colma's stormy supervisor, Thomas J. Callan, was pronounced not guilty of a sign-tampering charge Monday by Municipal Court Judge Alfred W. Bowen.

Callan was arrested April 6 by San Bruno police when he allegedly removed cardboard facings from two signs and partly uprooted another. The supervisor claimed, at the time of his arrest, that he was acting in the capacity of director of Joint Highway district No. 10, which body opposed San Bruno's action in blocking off Crystal Springs road to southbound traffic on Junipero Serra boulevard.

THOMAS CALLAN SR.
... Not Guilty

In registering his decision with Richard Liberty, northern judicial court clerk, Judge Bowen did not explain his judgment of "not guilty."

Judge Bowen was assigned to the case from the Palo Alto-Mountain View judicial district to sit for Municipal Judge Thomas L. Boel, who disqualified himself because of his friendship with Callan.

Kiwanis Club Hosts Mayor Joe Verducci

Daly City Mayor Joseph Verducci was the guest speaker at the Thursday luncheon of the Kiwanis club of Saint Francis at Rieck's Red Chimney in Stonestown, according to Club President William J. O'Keefe.

Verducci, head football coach and athletic director at San Francisco State college, spoke on the mechanics of scouting a football team. According to O'Keefe, many men in the audience were school day acquaintances of Verducci.

"The humorous, yet thorough way, in which his subject was presented left no doubt in the minds of his listeners why Verducci is considered one of the foremost men in his field," O'Keefe reported.

For the pre-school child there are many beautiful picture books, some poetry and music books, she said. Beginning readers have their own shelf, and there is every type of story for the third and fourth grade readers. Beautifully illustrated copies of the classics, books on hobbies, handicraft, nature lore, aviation, biography, history, a varied collection of fairy tales, and every type of storybook are available for older children, she added. There is a separate section for teen-age novels.

TWO LOCAL SCOUTS ENJOY ALASKA TRIP

Word received from Juneau, Alaska, indicates that the Expedition of ten San Mateo County Explorer Scouts who are taking part in the Father Hubbard Alaskan Expedition this summer are having an enjoyable and a rewarding experience. Among the Explorers are Bill Brown, Colma, and Scott Parker, Broadmoor.

According to a letter received from Assistant Explorer-Advisor Marc Scriven, the Expedition members have found good fishing and are devoting a large part of their time to fishing at Taku Lake near their camp at Taku Harbor.

According to Scriven, who is on temporary duty from the U. S. Army in order to serve as Assistant Explorer-Advisor for the Expedition, the trip has so far been filled with various interesting activities.

Included in these was an overnight trip to Slocum Bay where the group stayed at the campsite of a colorful old prospector, Tiger Olson, followed by a hike the next day to Tiger's newest "mine" discovery.

Expedition members also took part in a social gathering with the Youth Group in Juneau after which the Juneau Boy Scout Council helped the local delegation by obtaining the use of private homes where the boys could stay overnight.

The local group also has spent a day in Juneau visiting the museums, souvenir shopping and sight seeing, and during the past week they have been taking part in a week-long trip to Tracy and Endicott Arms to view glaciers and ice breakoffs.

Scriven further reported that the Expedition members have received complete training in the handling of small boats and the care of outboard motors from Father Hubbard's assistant, Don Townsend.

In addition, the Explorers were able to hear talks on survival by Father Hubbard who once was an instructor in survival tactics for the armed forces.

WHAT'S DOING
Thomas R. Gilbert, your Telephone Manager in Daly City

How telephone drivers guard your safety

Protecting your safety and that of your family is a big part of every telephone driver's job. And to prepare our drivers for this responsibility, we give each a special course in what we call defensive driving. This teaches telephone people to drive in such a way as to prevent accidents no matter what others may do. And it really pays off. For example, telephone drivers covered more than 80 million miles last year without a single fatal accident. Naturally, careful driving like this helps make the streets safer for everyone. And by helping us keep skilled people on the job, it enables us to work faster and more efficiently... to bring you good telephone service. Pacific Telephone works to make your telephone a bigger value every day.

How to help people get in touch with you faster

If the telephone number at your house isn't now listed under your name, it easily can be. In fact, everyone in the family—Mom, the youngsters, resident "in-laws", and so on—can have a separate listing. By having your own name in the phone book, you make it easier for people to get in touch with you. It can be the difference between getting or missing important calls. And you can have your own listing at small cost. So why not call us at your telephone business office and talk it over.

Lady Lawyer

Mrs. Kay Stanley, Business Office Supervisor, sees her name on the list of those recently admitted to the California State Bar Association. Pointing out the good news is Mrs. Pat Carrithers, Service Representative. Besides supervising a group of Service Representatives in one of Pacific Telephone's San Francisco Business Offices, Mrs. Stanley has found time to raise a family and earn her L.L.B. from the University of San Francisco. She expects to be using her training on Company legal matters in the very near future.

HEARING CLOSED FOR FIRED COP DAVE JOHNSTONE

The city council is expected to rule Monday on whether to uphold the firing of police inspector David Johnstone Jr., who was removed from his job by City Manager Howard Stites on the grounds that he personally associated with persons under police investigation and failed to inform his superior officers of his activities.

Public hearing before the civil service board of review came to a close Thursday, as Frank Blum, representing the city, and John J. Fahey, defending the ousted policeman, gave their final arguments.

The civil service board will submit its findings to the council in the form of a recommendation. Blum, pointing to the police rules and regulations which declare that an officer may be fired for action bringing reproach to the city, said that Johnstone had not made "one denial" of the charges leveled against him by the city manager.

Investigated Friend

The attorney went on to explain that Johnstone had made a police investigation of a personal friend; had associated with persons known to be under investigation; and had been the cause for official action on the part of the district attorney. "I defy you to show where these charges have been refuted by Johnstone in his testimony," Blum declared.

The city attorney said if the civil service board found Johnstone innocent, they would have to "disbelieve the mayor, the city manager, the council, the district attorney and even Mr. Johnstone himself."

Fahey held that the whole case against Johnstone centered around a letter to Stites from district attorney Keith Sorenson, terming Blum's arguments "facetious and fallacious," Fahey said, "I ask you when was Johnstone derelict in his duties in any respect whatsoever?"

Can Destroy You

"If this letter is the basis of the charges, then Sorenson can write a letter about any of you and destroy you. This is not the American way," Fahey argued.

"Just because Sorenson is district attorney doesn't make his word any more persuasive," Fahey continued. "If we allow character assassination like this, the sooner the Russians take over, the better."

Fahey declared that at all times Johnstone's superior officers had complete knowledge of his investigations and his personal friendship with Dino Donati, proprietor of the Mission street establishment to be under investigation for possible bookmaking activities.

"The district attorney apparently believes rumor, inference and innuendo are OK for the other fellow, but not for him," Fahey said, referring to his repartee with Sorenson at an earlier hearing. "I pay-off to Sorenson for an abortion ring. Sorenson has demanded that Fahey report to the grand jury on his knowledge of such activity."

"Can't Catch"

"He can pitch, but he can't catch," Fahey continued. "I only used the abortion question to show the ridiculousness of Sorenson's position regarding Johnstone on rumor and innuendo. Now I'm under investigation. Does that make any sense?"

Fahey's closing appeal was that, "I submit, there is absolutely nothing whatsoever anyone can point to and say, 'Johnstone did something he shouldn't have or did not do something he should have.'"

"Johnstone has a good name. Now some knucklehead D.A. sees fit to destroy him. We want vindication," Blum concluded that Fahey had tried "everyone in the world but his own client. He's trying to say that the district attorney is acting arbitrarily or is a fool. The district attorney doesn't take steps like this unless he feels he should."

"The most important evidence in this whole case is that of Johnstone himself. He has testified to acts we have charged him with."

Harry Bosberry, chairman of the civil service group, said making a decision on the case was "one of the most important jobs we have ever had. A man's future and livelihood is at stake. Whatever our decision, we'll be heels to some people."

CIRCULATE PETITIONS

though Noonan said today that his group has prior jurisdiction over the Conti-Bocci strip, Daly City Mayor Joseph J. Verducci claims that Daly City has jurisdiction.

The Conti-Bocci strip, included within the proposed city of Northgate, has been before the Daly City council for annexation prior to the filing of Northgate boundaries with the county boundaries commission.

If Daly City does have jurisdiction over the strip and votes in favor of annexation, plans for Northgate incorporation will be stopped since the strip cuts the proposed city in half.

Daly City council members agreed nearly two months ago to hold off decision on the strip until after the incorporation election of Garden Village, Sterling Park and Broadmoor.

Dissension arose when, without the council's knowledge, pro-incorporation enthusiasts filed Northgate boundaries, including area planned for Daly City annexation, with the boundaries commission.

According to Verducci, the council will vote on the Conti-Bocci annexation on August 8. City Attorney Frank Blum has filed for approval of the annexation with adjacent cities, South San Francisco and Colma.

South San Francisco has protested the proposed city on the grounds that some of the area lies within the South City watershed, and would create a drainage problem.

The council maintains that development of the presently uninhabited territory would mean increase in the storm water run-off, chiefly down the Colma creek canal, which runs through South San Francisco.

The South San Francisco office have written the county board of supervisors requesting that they be notified when the incorporation comes before the board.

Colma town council, meanwhile, have placed the incorporation issue on their agenda for their August 10 meeting, but have not revealed whether they will oppose or support the move.

Colletti told a similar story. He rented an abandoned pool hall where arrests were made and gambling equipment taken. "I wanted to rent it. I didn't know who they were and I got them out when I found out they were gambling," avowed the Bayshore businessman.

News From The Parks

MARCHBANKS

Last week Marchbanks Park was a scene of battle. This was the first in a series of checker tournaments. The contestants were grim and determined. The length of the games varied from five minutes to over an hour. For over 80 minutes Billy Sarris and Joan Malloy rallied back and forth. At last Joan executed a play which took three of Billy's men.

In the semifinals there were the Craig brothers, Danny and Ricky, Joan Malloy and Tony Furger. The finals saw Malloy battle strategy proved to be too much for Joan. For the third consecutive year Master Craig has won the checker tournament. A like contest will be held next week. Losers like John Manos, Mike Drew, Dave Odell and the Bradfords promise to practice and be on the winners list next time.

A coloring contest was on the agenda for the younger children. Judging was indeed a difficult task, but the final results were as follows: five years and under—Paul Craig and Debbie Onquist tied for first; six years and over, first place Lonnie Shaddox, second Marty Craig, third Pat Gunderson.

Some of the other contestants were Don Dempsey, Don Houlihan, Marilyn Russell, Glen and Donnie Peacock, Adele Gonzales, and Tommy Denning.

Newest sensation at the Park is Melven Gall's goat. His visits to the playground always cause quite a stir. Mr. Goat is quite friendly and the children like to pet him. There is only one bad point in our animal visitors character, he loves to eat paper bag lunches. Rosemarie Stabel, Bob Jones and Lenny Olendorf can testify to this. So far he hasn't been able to actually take someone's nighttime snack but this little goat really has tried.

EDGEWOOD

Over 120 hot dogs were devoured by the children at Edgewood's hour weenie roast held Tuesday noon. Mrs. Johnnie Ortni and Giny Schroeder helped keep everyone in order.

The checker game has been learned and practiced by many children at this playground since summer vacation has started. They showed their skill at a checker tournament held Saturday. The 11-12 year group was won by Lee Potter beating James Caruso who had previously won 3 games. Janet Pope won the 9-10 year group and Diane Caruso was winner of the 8 year group and under, winning a half hour contest against Kathy Brock, who played an excellent game.

LINCOLN PLAYGROUND

Summer activities are in full swing at Lincoln playground—our checkers tournament is taking signups for all those interested.

We are continuing our weekly scavenger hunts with one this coming Friday.

This week we are starting a daily story telling hour for the younger children. If it is successful, we will continue this until the summer program is finished.

See Mr. Mendosa—director for details on any of the above items.

FRANKFORT

Last Thursday Patsy Smyser celebrated her birthday here. Besides her family, many friends were present. Among them were Pat and Janet Tilstrom; Margie and Marie Weeden and Chuckie Oliveira. After the birthday cake was eaten, the children enjoyed a game of croquet.

Friday was contest day. The winners are as follows: Young Children Coloring—Margaret Hartl, Stevie White, Pat Kenny.

Coloring — Age 7-8 — Janet Schwarz, Mary McDonald, Ray Kenny.

Park Tetherball champion was Chuck Oliveira, with Mike Smyser coming in for a close second. John Kenny was master of checkers while Joe Bloom defeated all challengers to Chinese Checkers.

BAY EXCURSION

The salt sea-air and bounding main lured over 150 to accompany the Daly City recreation department on its annual Bay Excursion. The ship, Harbor Queen, re-sounded with excitement and happy cries as it left the pier. Seasoned sailors Giny Schroeder, Larry and Mike Cox, Diane and Carolyn Smyser, Judy Racheone and Butch Davis, took command of the ship immediately. The "Big Rock" Alcatraz fascinated John Waldvogel, Jim Caruso and Jim Pierce. Other crew members Lin Sargent, Tommy Farina, Mary Bellinger, Paul and Gary Majorcan just sat back and enjoyed the ride.

The day was finished off by a visit to Aquatic Park Museum and wading in the surf.

Drug Nine Blast Broadmoor Cops, 15-4, In DC Softball

The heavy hitting Daly City Drugs nine pounded out ten hits to blast the Broadmoor police club right out of the Daly City Adult softball league play-off with a decisive 15-4 victory this week.

The losers drew first blood in the opening inning as they nicked Daly City pitcher Rolling for five walks and four runs. Daly City came right back in their half of the inning to take the lead when with two runs in and the bases loaded Tom Underwood slashed a double driving in three runs.

The Drug nine added a pair of runs in the fourth, then bunched four singles in the following frame to score four more tallies. George and Tom Bourneville were responsible for the heavy hitting in the sixth on singles by Harry Krohn and Lucia plus a long circuit clout to left by Pete Lufano completed the scoring for Daly City Drugs. Pitcher Rolling, after a shaky first inning, regained his control to blank the Police for the remainder of the contest giving up only two hits.

Playoffs to determine the league champion will get underway with Ralph's Cleaners facing Daly City Drugs at Marchbanks on Monday while Lagomarsino entertains the Eagles at Jefferson on the same night.

Five acts have been chosen to appear on the Fiesta's "Top Talent '55," the special events department of the San Mateo County Fair and Floral Fiesta announced today. "Top Talent" will take the place of the regular stage show on the night of August 9, midway in the fair's nine-day run. San Mateo County Fair and Floral Fiesta dates are August 5 through 13.

A total of 117 persons in 57 different acts tried out on Tuesday evening for a spot on this one-night-only show which will be presented on the Fiesta Bowl stage. Under the direction of the special events department, auditions lasted into the small hours of the morning. Selection of the winning acts took much consideration because of the array of outstanding talent competing.

"The Three Jumping Jacks," a trampoline comedy act, with Angelo Lococo, Ted Bogios and Vicki Adare; Trudi Velez, a vocalist; "That's Entertainment," a trio of variety artists consisting of Tony Bartell, Lindsey Oulette and Annette de la Roche; Stanley Davis, a vocalist, and "Three Harps from Sharps Park," harmonica trio with Ray Tankersley, Del Roberts and Jimmy Kay are the five acts that will appear on "Top Talent." These acts will each receive a $50 cash award. An additional $50 will be awarded the act selected as most successful in the show on August 9.
